LURED BY AROMA OF NEIGHBOR'S TOBACCO

Boston, Mass., April 21, 1927

L. R. & Co.,
Richmond, Gentlemen:

This morning I had a smoking advertisement worth recording. Next to me in the smoking car a gentleman was puffing his pipe contentedly. I was not smoking at the moment, and the aroma of his tobacco intrigued me. For twelve years I had smoked Edgeworth without being tempted by any other brand, but this time I couldn't resist picking up the Times of the gentleman beside me, I was so afraid that I might not resist the temptation to speak of it.

"That is wonderfully fragrant, you have to hold there," I remarked. "Would you mind taking me the name of it?"

It is Edgeworth," he answered. We then congratulated each other upon our mutual good sense, and I decided that I would continue to use the brand and advertise.

Sincerely yours,
