ADVISORY COUNCIL MEETS WITH ALL ATHLETIC LEADERS

Prospects Of Each Sport Are Presented In General Discussion

DR. ROCKWELL PRESIDES

As a pre-pot-to-pot for the dis- cussion of the various units during the coming year the managers, assistant managers, and athletic officials met at the Advisory Council. The meeting was held in the Advisory Council room in the Student Union.

Mr. William C. Benedict, Professor of Naval Architecture, addressed the group on a variety of subjects. He discussed the plans for the various activities, both on and off the campus. He also spoke about the future of the Institute and its relationship to the community.

The meeting was concluded with a general discussion of the various units, and it was decided to reconvene in two weeks for further discussion.

Harvard Student Today

A Record of Continuous News Service
For 47 Years

Harvard Has Student of Sixty-Eight Years

Harvard University numbers among its alumni a student of sixty-eight years. This year Mr. William L. Benedict, '27, is the holder of this record. Mr. Benedict is entering as a Junior in the School of Architecture.

Mr. Benedict is a native of Boston and was educated in the public schools of the city. He is a member of the class of 1927 and is one of the most promising students in the School of Architecture.

Annual Meeting of the Corporation of the Wesleyan University

The Corporation of the Wesleyan University held its annual meeting on Friday, October 26, at the University Club. The meeting was attended by a large number of alumni and friends of the University.

Mr. Charles Boyer, '29, has been elected as the new President of the Corporation. Mr. Boyer is a native of New Haven and has been a member of the Wesleyan University faculty for the past four years.

The Corporation took under consideration a number of important matters, including the future of the University and the development of its various departments.

Dorm Freshmen Hold Conclave In Ware Lounge

Yearlings are Ushered to More Class Spirit and to Obey Rules

Freshmen residing in the dormitories held their second meeting of the year in the Ware Lounge last Friday. The meeting was attended by a large number of freshmen who were eager to learn more about their new environment.

Mr. Benedict, in his opening remarks, welcomed the freshmen to the conclave. He said that the freshmen should be more class spirit and should obey the rules of the dormitories.

NAVAL MUSEUM IN PRATT BUILDING OPEN TO SCHOOL

Rare Ship Models and Prints Should Be Seen

One of the privileges which the students of the School of Naval Architecture and Gunnery enjoy is the privilege of viewing the Rare Ship Models and Prints in the Naval Museum.

This museum contains some of the most perfect and most perfect as well as some of the most ancient ship models in the world. The models are of various styles, ranging from the earliest days of shipbuilding to the present time.

Many Places Open in Dance Hall at Lowell Institute School

The Lowell Institute School, held under the auspices of the T. C. A. and led by Mr. Benedict, holds a number of dances each year. The dances are held in the Lowell Institute School auditorium and are attended by a large number of students and faculty members.

Erection of New Dormitory Buildings Assured by Contributions of Alumni

Various Classes Contribute for Hall's, Several Units Under Way Soon

Many new dormitory buildings are at present being constructed, and others are being planned. The new dormitories will be built, but first steps must be taken before the work can be completed.

Mr. Benedict spoke of the importance of having the new dormitories completed. He said that the new dormitories will provide better facilities for the students and will be an asset to the University.

ATTENDANCE RECORD BROKEN AT ALL-TECHNOLOGY SMOKER

One Wheel Ford, Lost, Stayed, Maybe Stolen

"To be or not to be that is the question," Mr. Benedict said during the meeting. "What will become of the freshmen next year?" From the appearance of things, it seems that one will be led to believe that they are students of a new type.

Mr. Benedict then explained that the next question would be held on Thursday of this week. Following this important event came a "Why are we happy?" cone. Chairman Eugene Wood urged the freshmen to come to the conclave and turn out for the field day teams. Next in the program came on 10:47 and another one. "Are we happy?" followed. Mr. Benedict then explained that the "Why are we happy?" cone would be of service. He asked the managers to keep the freshmen interested in the team spirit.

Mr. Benedict then announced that the meeting was over and that the freshmen should enjoy their time and view the models while a student of "Technology."