Tennis Tournament Progressing Slowly

Technology's Tennis Tournament has not quite gotten the flying start that was expected, and as a result, if those who are entered do not hurry up with their plays they will be out of the running for the first match. Only a few of the regulars have been able to get in as many matches as they had hoped to and such matches must be played by the end of the week. As a result, the players will have to come out left to complete them, only two matches have been played. Considering the fact that there are more men who are away at the present time than ever before, this is indeed a poor showing.

Interclass Relay Trials Next Week

Time trials for the freshman and Sophomore candidates will be held next week. It will be a series of trials giving each man a fair chance to make the team. The distance will be 220 yards and twelve men will be selected for each team.

Sophomore Football Team Showing Real Class

Handicapped by insufficient Amount of Equipment

With their first game only five days away the Sophomore football team is rapidly rounding into form. Under the able coaching of Ken Fisher the team has perfected a few new plays which, with those of last year, will give them enough of a variety to puzzle their opponents. The signal system which Fisher has substituted for the huddle seems to be working out very well, it gives the men a chance to get set before the ball is put in play and thus a faster start.

Interclass Relay Trials Next Week

Time trials for the freshman and Sophomore candidates will be held next week. It will be a series of trials giving each man a fair chance to make the team. The distance will be 220 yards and twelve men will be selected for each team. In the Sophomore list of candidates this year are many men who could not make the team last year, but such an improvement has been noted that they will be strong contenders for the Sophomore team and should be up in the running for places this year. Olson, Widowshead, and Gearl are among those who did not participate last year, but are expected to be stars before Field Day ends.

The freshmen have begun to show some real speed, and if the men show as much improvement in the next two weeks the record for the relay will be in serious danger of being broken. The yearlings have been working out for two weeks, and have been holding marathons every afternoon at the track, with practice in sprints and running form.

Adolphe Menjou Picks Old Gold as Camera Records the Blindfold Test

This test was conducted by responsible witnesses who asked Mr. Menjou to smoke each of the four leading brands, starting his test with coffee before smokes. With the camera recording the test, only one question was asked: "Which one do you like best?"

"I've discovered a new way of mixing business and pleasure. The parts I play are the constant smoking of Old Gold. I probably average one cigarette a day."
