Preparations for the first cross country meet of the season began in earnest last week, after a number of the runners were idle during the summer months. A good workout at Tufts last Wednesday was followed by two days of fairly easy work, so that the men give now are in top-notch condition for today's meet with Holy Cross at Franklin Park.

The meet will start at 8:30 this afternoon, and both the Vaquero and freshman teams will be there to compete against their first real opponents of the year. Coach McCall has selected as many as possible so that every one will have a chance to show his ability in competition.

Notch Out of Race

The Vaquero will be handicapped by the loss of Mitchell, who will not be able to compete. He will do some to oil his shoes, however.

Javvy Crew Takes Early Morning Dip

Dailylog has been sent out but that tradition will have to be modified after an inspection of the juice. The Javvy crew are rated as the only college crew having the start and the size of the boat of any crew in the country. This is the first time since the junior varsity entered the race that the crew has been very much injured. The crew had no opportunity to train as a unit until a week ago and no preparation for the meet has been made. This has prevented the crew from making a good start on the track and the men are in the mood to win.

Both the Varsity and the Frosh crew are in the mood to win.

FRESHMAN GRIDSTERS

PLAY AT TUFTS TODAY

Greatly Improved Team Out for Victory This Afternoon

Struggled through a series of new enrollees and well-organized coaching, the freshman football team expects to make a fine showing against the Tufts College freshman team this afternoon at Tufts Cem. Much improvement has been seen in the team this week. More than twenty new men have turned out for practice since the fall for more players are needed before meeting Monday. The Junior class has helped in practice and study. Lack of coaching was handicapimg the team and much better work has been done since Hugh Wal- ter, '27, a star athlete of last year, returned to coach. Walter promises that his men some real training.

Reports are that Tufts freshmen are in good shape, and a hard skirmish is expected. But the coaches are confident of a good showing and hopes to bring home the victory.

Captain Joe Paul has set up forty-five former high and prep school stars in the line and backfield and with a number of new players to choose from expects to develop a first rate team that have been home by the Tufts boys and mains, commonly known as Training Men.

Saturday, October 20

With more than twice as many enrollees as last season, the football team is in the best condition. Captain Joe Paul has put in more men than expected and the team is in the best shape for the season with a man of experience on the line and backfield and with such prospects for a victory on Field Day this year than ever before, the team has given interest to the training for all the other Field Day events.
