Fraternities in Favor of Revival of Circus

At the meeting of the interfraternity conference at which it was finally determined to have the Circus return, the following fraternities were in favor of having the Circus again: Kappa Sigma, Delta Chi, Delta Upsilon, Zeta Psi, Alpha Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Lambda Chi, Phi Mu Alpha, Sigma Nu, Sigma Delta Tau, Sigma Chi, and Mu Epsilon. This action was forced on the committee in charge of the event by the storms which prevented the circus from coming last year.

NEW SCHEDULE OF AERIAL TRAINING WILL BE STARTED

Students to Receive Nine Months Course of Initial Training and Eight Months of Advanced Training according to a communiqué received by Lieutenant Benjamin D. Price from the Navy Department at Washington, D.C. Several school will be held during the next year.

ALDRED LECTURE IS SCHEDULED TOMORROW

W. D. Hines

On Cotton Industry

first LECTURE OF YEAR WILL BE WALTER D. HINES

President of the Cotton Textile Institute will speak on Work

OTHERS ANNOUNCED LATER

In his address Mr. Hines will discuss the tremendous problems of the textile industry, involving efforts to increase the production of available raw materials, to increase output, and to reduce labor costs.

One of the most important features of the lecture will be the demonstration of the new cotton mill which has been constructed at the Georgia Textile Institute.

Colonel C. R. Gowe

Selected As New City Postmaster

Professor of Humanities at the Institute

Place of Baker

Colonel Charles R. Gowe, Professor of Humanities at the Institute, will be succeeded by the present position, is in favor of the program by the students of the institute, and will deliver the commencement address.

The method of formal examination will consist of a written test in a single subject, and the group of post office officials and co-workers will be responsible for the selection of the candidate designated as the new postmaster.

MILITARY AND POLITICAL

Pi Delta Epsilon Elects President at Annual Convention in Atlanta, Ga.

At the annual convention held at Atlanta, Georgia last week, Pi Delta Epsilon, the national fraternity for students majoring in political science, elected Joseph C. Patton of Ohio State University, president.

In his address to the students, Mr. Patton emphasized the importance of the study of political science and the need for increased cooperation among members of the fraternity.

The convention also featured a series of guest speakers, including Representative from the Ohio State University, who addressed the students on the importance of political science education.

MILITARY AND POLITICAL

Pi Delta Epsilon Elects President at Annual Convention in Atlanta, Ga.

At the annual convention held at Atlanta, Georgia last week, Pi Delta Epsilon, the national fraternity for students majoring in political science, elected Joseph C. Patton of Ohio State University, president.

In his address to the students, Mr. Patton emphasized the importance of the study of political science and the need for increased cooperation among members of the fraternity.

The convention also featured a series of guest speakers, including Representative from the Ohio State University, who addressed the students on the importance of political science education.

The convention also featured a series of guest speakers, including Representative from the Ohio State University, who addressed the students on the importance of political science education.

The convention also featured a series of guest speakers, including Representative from the Ohio State University, who addressed the students on the importance of political science education.