Colonel C. R. Gow
Is Chairman of Planning Board
Appointed Head of Metropolitan Planning Division by Governor Fuller

MAY BE NEXT POSTMASTER

Colonel Charles R. Gow, Professor of Humanities at Tech, was appointed chairman of the Metropolitan Planning Division by Governor Alvin V. Fuller on Wednesday. According to the Governor, however, Colonel Gow is still in line for appointment as the next postmaster of Boston. It has been stated that Gow will accept the state appointment and will later take the civil service examination for postmaster for Boston. Gow explained that there is no opposition against his holding both offices, since there is no prohibition against accepting the state appointment and will accept the state appointment and will later take the civil service examination for postmaster for Boston. Gow explained that there is no opposition against his holding both offices, since there is no prohibition against accepting there e is no prohibition against the state appointment and will accept the state appointment and will later take the civil service examination for postmaster for Boston. Gow explained that there is no opposition against his holding both offices, since there is no prohibition against accepting

DEBATERS PREPARE FOR COMING MEETS

Freshman Team Still Has Places Open to New Candidates

Fighting furiously from start to finish, the Engineer basketball team won their fourth straight victory when they defeated Manhattan College of New York City by a score of 31-28 in the Hangar Gym Wednesday evening. Without a doubt this was the happiest of New Years.

The staff of THE TECH wishes all its readers a merry Christmas.