As We See the Movies

In "Out With the Old," you learn that the old come back, for better or worse. (SPOILER: They always do.)

The Open Forum

Dear Editor,

I read with interest the editorial "Out With the Old". It interested me that you pointed out that some one-day open ewer dissatisfactions with the present system. The problem is: are you not attacking the wrong thing?

You do point out that we are losing many students who stay at to study Spanish? You are not attacking the wrong thing, of course, when you talk about dissatisfactions.

The liberal arts, you see, are different from the sciences. The old cannot be replaced by the new, but they can be replaced by the
