WELCOME!

TECHNOLOGY stresses Quantity, not Quality, and this ideal is carried beyond the actual curriculum. In a school with so few traditions, it is not surprising that new customs should be set as often as the school is changed. It is only once each year that we make a special effort to entertain, but since the custom was inaugurated six years ago this spring, the department has grown with the times. Every year twenty thousand guests enjoy the displays of the Institute and the Institute in full stride.

The friends and relatives of men at the Institute, we extend a hearty welcome. Whether you come to find out why your son is "smarting," or what he means when he tells you about "Eskite Lab", or whether you feel a real personal interest in the highest achievements of men, we hope you will find the Institute attractive, and return to your homes and businesses satisfied with the day, and with an increased knowledge.

The Institute displays in the main buildings demonstrate the phenomena which we students discuss in the classrooms. But time has its limits, and this very necessity is what makes the Institute unique in America. It is a dynamic, ever-changing society for the highest. Of the students, it is a student body. The Institute is an un息息促xstant institution. It is in that building that all the undergraduates are required to attend. It is in that building that the student comes for recreation. To make your day complete then, drop in at Walker. Without a doubt, you will find that the Institute is there, and that the student knows this.
