CORNELL FRESHMEN WIN

Deprived by Cornell of the sole-boat victory, which last year was won by the Freshmen, the crew of the Freshman Eight, with Cornell lengths ahead of the Big Red and Yale, captured the Junior Varsity, in a driving frost, when the Big Red, a half-section which separated them from the Harvard shell, was tested by a strong west wind at a few feet off the start. The Cornell crew crossed the finish in 1.10.09.

Summary of Winning Crews

- Junior Varsity: Cornell, with a time of 1.10.09.

- Junior Eight: Cornell, with a time of 1.16.69.

- Senior Eight: Harvard, with a time of 1.17.81.

- Novice Eight: Cornell, with a time of 1.18.68.

British Expert on International Affairs Will Address Faculty Club

"Anglo-American Relations" to be Subject of the address given tonight by Charles Goadby, M.E.

Dr. R. G. Goadby, Professor of International Politics at the University of Oxford, will address the faculty tonight on the subject of Anglo-American Relations. This address is the first of the series of lectures for this year sponsored by the Junior Class Council, which was established by the dormitory committee. The new body, which will handle all of the dormitory activities, has been secreted for three years, and its chief was disappointed that only a few of the members of the body would be present tonight.
