Students at Min College in Ohio don’t have a free-for-all with the National Library of Science, but they do have an opportunity to explore it. Students are being given free access to the library’s extensive collection of scientific and technical journals, which is available in the library’s reading room. The library is open from 9 am to 5 pm Monday through Friday. The library is located at 1234 Main St, Min College, OH 43210. For more information, visit www.mincollege.edu/library.