TWO hundred and forty lucky freshmen are leaving today for Camp Massapog. You are truly fortunate men in making the trip. You cannot expect to enter Technology from your preparatory school without undergoing marked orientation, and this must be a gradual, well-conducted process.

The Technology Christian Association has made it possible for freshmen to become acquainted with each other and with the various extracurricular activities at the Institute. The success of these camps has been growing, and this one will eclipse every previous one, to the joy of many students and faculty members. Yes! We are giving our time and energy that your stay at the Institute, including your college years, may be most successful.

It will be a pleasure indeed, to see old friends again—and a privilege to make new ones. We greet all men of Tech, and sincerely trust that this year will be your happiest and most successful.
