Sophomores and Freshmen Clash In Dorm Battle
Annual Interclass Struggle is Declared A Draw After Hour's Fight

A pitched battle which many of the sophomores and freshmen who claimed as their battleground, fight for light, heat, and water, and who have been fighting since far before the test began was not as long as many had expected. The charge of both Sophomores and Freshmen who met at dinner this evening was greeted with a grand fight, and the charges continued with even greater force as the sun set, and the contest raged on into the dark of the night.

The Sophomores, led by Benjamin B. Bright, were flushed by the sight of their new "fighting brotherhood," and they charged at the Freshmen, who were led by Charles A. Allen. The charge was met with a counter-charge, and the two groups met several times. Both the Sophomores and Freshmen were determined to win, and the fight went on until 11 o'clock.

The fight was broken when the Sophomores, led by Benjamin B. Bright, charged at the Freshmen, who were led by Charles A. Allen. BUT THEY CAME BACK SOON AFTER THE DOMINANCE WAS LOST FOR THE FIGHT IS NOT OVER YET. THE FRESHMEN STAYED STRONG AND TOOK OVER THE FLOOR, AND MADE THE FIGHT A FAIR ONE.
