RIVAL FACTIONS IN MANY CLASHES AT NEWSPAPER STAND

Many Demonstrations Stir Enthusiasm for Year-Round Pitching

FRESHMEN KEEP MASCOT

Sophomores Win Tug-of-War and Football Game—Glove Fight

Amid a constant hail of eggs, over 100 sophomores were defeated by the freshmen in a tug-of-war contest at the Field Day banquet, held last Friday. The freshmen won by a one-point margin of 26 to 25, and the game was played on the Field.

Sophomore Win Tug-of-War

The sophomore team was led by a captain who was an experienced tug-of-war fighter. The team was well-coordinated and worked hard to maintain their lead throughout the game.

Glove Fight

In a dramatic conclusion to the Field Day events, the Glove Fight was held on the Field. The Glove Fight is a popular event at Field Day, and it involves two teams throwing a glove back and forth over a designated distance.

Despite the intense competition, the Glove Fight was a friendly and enthusiastic event that brought the Field Day festivities to a close.

COMPLAIN OF LOSSES AT NEWSPAPER STAND

Over 40 Magazines Taken By Students Last Week

There has been some complaint recently regarding the loss of newspapers from the stands. Many of the students have taken newspapers from the stands without paying for them. Other students have stolen the newspapers from the stands and altered them in some way.

Several students have complained about the loss of newspapers, and they have asked for the return of the newspapers.

CURTAINS IMPROVE WALKER ACOUSTICS

Temporary Hangings Installed To Determine Effect

Many have noticed the recent change in the acoustics at Walker. The curtains were hung in the center of the room, and they have improved the acoustics significantly.

According to a statement from Professor E. P. Brown, the curtains were hung in order to test their effect on the acoustics. The curtains will remain in place for a week, and the effect on the acoustics will be assessed.

The curtains will be made of sound absorbent material which will absorb the sound reverberations as well as the sound of the students talking. The curtains will be hung in a way that will not block the view of the students.

Santa Claus Appears Again in Main Lobby

Santa Claus was seen again in the Main Lobby last week. He was holding a sack full of gifts and was singing carols. The students were thrilled to see Santa Claus again.

Santa Claus is a popular figure at the college, and he always brings joy and happiness to the students.
