Coached in Many Countries of Europe Before Coming To America

Rowing today is one of the principal sports of Eastern Europe. In the city of Riga, the capital of Latvia, there was recently staged a regatta among the nationalities that make up the Latvian Republic. In this same country, the University of Riga gives to its students the opportunity to become proficient in the art of rowing. In Poland, particularly in the city of Warsaw, there is a strong rowing organization that is associated with the University of Warsaw. In the city of Vilnius, the capital of Lithuania, there is a rowing club that is affiliated with the University of Vilnius. In the city of Cracow, the capital of Poland, there is a rowing club that is associated with the University of Cracow. In the city of Poznan, the capital of Poland, there is a rowing club that is affiliated with the University of Poznan. In the city of Lodz, the capital of Poland, there is a rowing club that is associated with the University of Lodz. In the city of Warsaw, the University of Warsaw has a rowing club that is associated with the University of Warsaw. In the city of Lodz, the University of Lodz has a rowing club that is associated with the University of Lodz. In the city of Poznan, the University of Poznan has a rowing club that is associated with the University of Poznan. In the city of Cracow, the University of Cracow has a rowing club that is associated with the University of Cracow. In the city of Vilnius, the University of Vilnius has a rowing club that is associated with the University of Vilnius. In the city of Riga, the University of Riga has a rowing club that is associated with the University of Riga.