CAGERS MEET LOWELL, TEXTILE

ENGINEER FIELD STARS TO ENTER BOSTON 'T MEET

Many College, Independent Teams Will Compete in

SIX EVENTS ON BOARD

To give his men a taste of real competition before the winter break comes, Coach Greenleaf has entered eight men from the freshman and sophomore teams in this tournament which will be held tomorrow night at the Boston Auditorium. The Williams College men are the strongest in the field, representing the Institute in the high jump, pole vault, broad jump, and discus, and the freshmen are entered in the shot put, high jump, and discus.

BOSTON College has entered their entire team in the meet, while Harvard and Northeastern have several members from the men's and women's teams who will be entered. W. C. M. and Harvard have sent a strong team, and the Beavers have been put up for the first time in this meet. The meet is said to be the largest ever held in Boston, and there will be a big draw of people from both teams.

On Friday afternoon the sixth member of the team announced that he would not be able to compete, leaving the Beaver team with only five men. He is expected to return to Boston on Saturday night and will be able to compete in the meet.

The meet will be held at the Boston Auditorium, and will be open to the public. The admission will be $1.00 for men and 50 cents for women, with children under 10 cents. The meet will consist of six events, and will be held on January 31.

Varsity Natators Anticipate Fray Against Amherst

Team Has Trained Finishes With Hope of Defeating Its Old Foes

With the Varsity swimming team journeying to Amherst, next Saturday, many of the men from this team will have a chance to compete against the men from the Amherst College team. The meet will be held in the pool at the University Club and will be open to the public. The admission will be $1.00 for men and 50 cents for women, with children under 10 cents.

The meet will consist of six events, and will be held on January 31.

The University of Rochester's athletic department has arranged for students to ride a train to the meet, which will leave at 1:00 a.m. and return at 4:00 a.m. The train will stop at the University Club and will be open to the public. The admission will be $1.00 for men and 50 cents for women, with children under 10 cents.

The meet will consist of six events, and will be held on January 31.