OFFICIAL BULLETINS OF GENERAL INTEREST

Physics Colloquium
Prof. P. Ehrenfest

Field January 23, 4 P.M., Room 4-270

Professor Ehrenfest, of the University of Leiden, will give his second lecture. These lectures will take the place of the regular colloquium the topics of which will be announced elsewhere. It is desired to interrupt the colloquium on account of Ehrenfest's forthcoming studies in mechanics. He has to make one or two changes in his old lectures, and this will be the case also in the table of contents.

Open to graduate students and members of the interesting staff.

DROUW, JOHNSON MEET IN DEBATE

Religion will be defended and agnosticism will have an airing Wednesday night, January 25, when Clarence Darrow, Chicago criminal lawyer, and the Reverend Herbert S. Johnson, "an agnostic preacher," will meet at Symphony Hall to defend the element of the Discussion Guild. The subject is "Is Religion Necessary?" Mr. Darrow, outstanding American Agnostic, foe of proselytism, capital punishment, and general intolerance, will tell why he is a believer. Mr. Johnson, an outstanding champion of Biblefellowship will defend religion. Both speakers will have opportunity for rebuttal.

This debate is Darrow's first appearance in Boston in the course of his agnostic tour of New England.
