COMPTON AND MARSH TO HONOR TECH-B. U. DANCE AND MUSICAL CONCERT

TWO ORCHESTRAS HIRED TO FURNISH CONTINUOUS MUSIC

Program Includes Vocal and Instrumental Selections
Of Many Types

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED

Two orchestras will provide continuous music throughout the which will follow the combined musical offerings of the Technion and Brooks Committee in a concert seated Friday night at the Institute. The Technion University Band and the Tech B U. Orchestra, both under the direction of the recently elected band director, Prof. Magoun, will furnish a night of music. The Tech B U. Orchestra has been tried on a recent concert tour and was named the best band of the concert tour.

Two Presidents Will Attend

President and Mrs. Karl T. Comings of the Institute of Technology and the President and Mrs. William T. Payson of the University will attend the concert.

Dr. Mathies Stages Interesting Affair with the Hanover-Radcliffe Trio

Dr. Mathies, President of the Technion Institute of Technology, will stage an interesting affair with the Hanover-Radcliffe Trio. This trio, composed of three points to one, will perform a variety of pieces, including arrangements of the works of Bach and Beethoven.

Upset All Predictions by Defeating the Fears Against Four for Dartmouth

In addition to the musical offerings, the students will be able to secure at the concert tickets for $1.50, those for couples will be $3.00. This is the first time that such a price has been charged for concert tickets.

In mission is the Women's Glee Club; each one of competition will enter into the course of the concert. Priday night. The B. U. Glee Club will present a selection by the two Glee Clubs next week, in which eleven college,; Chemistry Department.

Two orchestras will provide continuous music throughout the concert, which will follow the combined musical offerings of the Technion and Brooks Committee in a concert seated Friday night at the Institute. The Technion University Band and the Tech B U. Orchestra, both under the direction of the recently elected band director, Prof. Magoun, will furnish a night of music. The Tech B U. Orchestra has been tried on a recent concert tour and was named the best band of the concert tour.

To prepare for the concert, the orchestra has been practicing for several weeks under the direction of Prof. Magoun. The orchestra is composed of 100 musicians and features a variety of instruments, including strings, woodwinds, and brass.

The concert will begin with the Technion University Band, followed by the Tech B U. Orchestra. The concert will feature a variety of pieces, including arrangements of the works of Bach and Beethoven.

The Women's Glee Club will present a selection by the two Glee Clubs next week, in which eleven college,; Chemistry Department.

In addition to the musical offerings, the students will be able to secure at the concert tickets for $1.50, those for couples will be $3.00. This is the first time that such a price has been charged for concert tickets.

In mission is the Women's Glee Club; each one of competition will enter into the course of the concert. Priday night. The B. U. Glee Club will present a selection by the two Glee Clubs next week, in which eleven college,; Chemistry Department.

Two orchestras will provide continuous music throughout the concert, which will follow the combined musical offerings of the Technion and Brooks Committee in a concert seated Friday night at the Institute. The Technion University Band and the Tech B U. Orchestra, both under the direction of the recently elected band director, Prof. Magoun, will furnish a night of music. The Tech B U. Orchestra has been tried on a recent concert tour and was named the best band of the concert tour.

To prepare for the concert, the orchestra has been practicing for several weeks under the direction of Prof. Magoun. The orchestra is composed of 100 musicians and features a variety of instruments, including strings, woodwinds, and brass.

The concert will begin with the Technion University Band, followed by the Tech B U. Orchestra. The concert will feature a variety of pieces, including arrangements of the works of Bach and Beethoven.

The Women's Glee Club will present a selection by the two Glee Clubs next week, in which eleven college,; Chemistry Department.

In addition to the musical offerings, the students will be able to secure at the concert tickets for $1.50, those for couples will be $3.00. This is the first time that such a price has been charged for concert tickets.

In mission is the Women's Glee Club; each one of competition will enter into the course of the concert. Priday night. The B. U. Glee Club will present a selection by the two Glee Clubs next week, in which eleven college,; Chemistry Department.

Two orchestras will provide continuous music throughout the concert, which will follow the combined musical offerings of the Technion and Brooks Committee in a concert seated Friday night at the Institute. The Technion University Band and the Tech B U. Orchestra, both under the direction of the recently elected band director, Prof. Magoun, will furnish a night of music. The Tech B U. Orchestra has been tried on a recent concert tour and was named the best band of the concert tour.

To prepare for the concert, the orchestra has been practicing for several weeks under the direction of Prof. Magoun. The orchestra is composed of 100 musicians and features a variety of instruments, including strings, woodwinds, and brass.

The concert will begin with the Technion University Band, followed by the Tech B U. Orchestra. The concert will feature a variety of pieces, including arrangements of the works of Bach and Beethoven.

The Women's Glee Club will present a selection by the two Glee Clubs next week, in which eleven college,; Chemistry Department.

In addition to the musical offerings, the students will be able to secure at the concert tickets for $1.50, those for couples will be $3.00. This is the first time that such a price has been charged for concert tickets.

In mission is the Women's Glee Club; each one of competition will enter into the course of the concert. Priday night. The B. U. Glee Club will present a selection by the two Glee Clubs next week, in which eleven college,; Chemistry Department.

Two orchestras will provide continuous music throughout the concert, which will follow the combined musical offerings of the Technion and Brooks Committee in a concert seated Friday night at the Institute. The Technion University Band and the Tech B U. Orchestra, both under the direction of the recently elected band director, Prof. Magoun, will furnish a night of music. The Tech B U. Orchestra has been tried on a recent concert tour and was named the best band of the concert tour.

To prepare for the concert, the orchestra has been practicing for several weeks under the direction of Prof. Magoun. The orchestra is composed of 100 musicians and features a variety of instruments, including strings, woodwinds, and brass.

The concert will begin with the Technion University Band, followed by the Tech B U. Orchestra. The concert will feature a variety of pieces, including arrangements of the works of Bach and Beethoven.

The Women's Glee Club will present a selection by the two Glee Clubs next week, in which eleven college,; Chemistry Department.

In addition to the musical offerings, the students will be able to secure at the concert tickets for $1.50, those for couples will be $3.00. This is the first time that such a price has been charged for concert tickets.

In mission is the Women's Glee Club; each one of competition will enter into the course of the concert. Priday night. The B. U. Glee Club will present a selection by the two Glee Clubs next week, in which eleven college,; Chemistry Department.

Two orchestras will provide continuous music throughout the concert, which will follow the combined musical offerings of the Technion and Brooks Committee in a concert seated Friday night at the Institute. The Technion University Band and the Tech B U. Orchestra, both under the direction of the recently elected band director, Prof. Magoun, will furnish a night of music. The Tech B U. Orchestra has been tried on a recent concert tour and was named the best band of the concert tour.

To prepare for the concert, the orchestra has been practicing for several weeks under the direction of Prof. Magoun. The orchestra is composed of 100 musicians and features a variety of instruments, including strings, woodwinds, and brass.

The concert will begin with the Technion University Band, followed by the Tech B U. Orchestra. The concert will feature a variety of pieces, including arrangements of the works of Bach and Beethoven.

The Women's Glee Club will present a selection by the two Glee Clubs next week, in which eleven college,; Chemistry Department.

In addition to the musical offerings, the students will be able to secure at the concert tickets for $1.50, those for couples will be $3.00. This is the first time that such a price has been charged for concert tickets.

In mission is the Women's Glee Club; each one of competition will enter into the course of the concert. Priday night. The B. U. Glee Club will present a selection by the two Glee Clubs next week, in which eleven college,; Chemistry Department.

Two orchestras will provide continuous music throughout the concert, which will follow the combined musical offerings of the Technion and Brooks Committee in a concert seated Friday night at the Institute. The Technion University Band and the Tech B U. Orchestra, both under the direction of the recently elected band director, Prof. Magoun, will furnish a night of music. The Tech B U. Orchestra has been tried on a recent concert tour and was named the best band of the concert tour.

To prepare for the concert, the orchestra has been practicing for several weeks under the direction of Prof. Magoun. The orchestra is composed of 100 musicians and features a variety of instruments, including strings, woodwinds, and brass.

The concert will begin with the Technion University Band, followed by the Tech B U. Orchestra. The concert will feature a variety of pieces, including arrangements of the works of Bach and Beethoven.

The Women's Glee Club will present a selection by the two Glee Clubs next week, in which eleven college,; Chemistry Department.