Activity Work Is Integral Feature Of Student Program Say Professors

Interest in Things Other Than Regular Workmates

Good Qualities

That extra-curricular activities are an integral and important part of the student's program, but that they should not be limited to those who are able to carry on an extra-curricular activity. The scholarship standing of the men in the Institute who were interviewed was indicated by the fact that "if any man is able to keep up his scholarship standing, he may carry on an extra-curricular activity in addition to his regular work."

"It is easy to get some early jobs to begin with," said another. "But if you plan on enrolling, you must be able to handle the time that is set aside in the schedule for these activities."

"Extra-curricular work is excellent for the student. It builds character and is necessary for the growth and development of the student in the program."

Time Budget Needed for Activities

"It is first necessary to analyze all the factors that affect the time that is available," said another. "Then, a time budget can be made to determine the amount of time that is needed for the activities."
