PLAN ORIGINAL EXHIBITS

25,000 visitors are expected at the Institute for the opening exhibits of the year, which will be open to the public Tuesday night. Mr. J. C. Clay, who served as an Army pilot in World War I, is in charge of the publicity campaign. Under his direction articles examining the five and ten-pound denominations of the cent are to be distributed in a box of about 325 newspapers within a radius of 60 miles of the Institute. There will also be more intensive advertising in the local papers in the vicinity of the Institute. The exhibits are being loaned to the newspapers by the anti-counterfeit organization.

Carnival and opening of the Institute, which fall on the same date, as usual, are to be held at 2 p.m. Monday afternoon. Mr. J. C. Clay has planned a program of short talks about the history of the Institute and the anti-counterfeit organization. Preparations are being made by the students and faculty to make the Institute displays as attractive as possible. The Institute will be open from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday, and the exhibits will be open to the public until 10 p.m. daily.

"Penny Wise and Pound Foolish" Tackled by Students

In an attempt to deter students from buying clothes that are too large, or in an attempt to reduce the amount of clothes that will be thrown away, the Institute will be offering a weight incentive to the students. Those who donate their old clothes will be paid 2 cents per pound for their clothes, and the money will be placed in the nomination of the anti-counterfeit organization. This incentive is expected to be effective in reducing the amount of clothes that are discarded by the students.
