AERONAUTICS CLUB
GLIDERS ARE SHOWN

Interesting Exhibit of Course XVI Is Displayed in Labor Laboratory
Among the exhibits featured today are several put on display by the Aeronautical Department and the Aeronautical Engineering Society. In the rigging crib of the Guggenheim Aeronautical Laboratory are various parts of gliders, which members of the laboratory have built and flown, and parts of one that will be put under construction. Of course, only under construction.

Wing-Ring Exhibit

Of interest to those who are interested in flight is a wing being built by Mr. H. B. Blunt, of Walkerton, New Jersey. This wing is being developed with the intent of using it as a training device for the maintenance of the flight ring used in the course of the aeronauts' flight laboratory and as an exhibit at the Labor Laboratory.

Cafeteria Offers New Ice Cream

An entirely new innovation in ice cream is being sold by the Memorial Dining Service of the Memorial Dining Service. The ice cream is being served by the Ceresia Cafeteria Co., the new vendor, and it is given publicity by the Associated Students.

In contrast to Ceresia in a pile of flowers, in that it is not only fresh, but it is always served with a smile and a sprig of flowers. From the start the new ice cream has been a success, and it has been served with a sprig of flowers for the past two years by members of the Department of Aeronautical Engineering. This year it participated in the exhibit of the Department of Aeronautical Engineering, and the result was that the ice cream was served with a sprig of flowers.
