Tossing of Boxing Gloves Furnished Inspiration To Basketball Creator

Nine Men Used on Teams During Fall Days of New Major Sport

Most of the names included in the team rosters are those of established players who have been locked up all along with Pop Naismith to work over the details of the game. Several seasons of practice have been poured into the problem, and the final results have been published by the rules committee as the new standard regulations.

The rules committee has been able to keep the game within the limits of health and safety, while at the same time it has allowed the players to enjoy the game.

Although basketball has one of the most popular and most successful teams in the country, its career contains a remarkable number of both men and women.

In summary, the game of basketball has developed into a major sport in recent years, and its popularity continues to grow. The rules committee has done an excellent job of keeping the game safe and exciting for all participants.
