JOURNALISM CLASS

Entries close soon

Mr. Frederick G. Pauley of the English Department is now forming a class in journalism which freshmen associated with either THE TECH or T.E.N. are privileged to substitute for their regular course. More than twenty men have already signified their intention of taking this subject, which for the first time is open to your members of the engineering publications as well as THE TECH. Mr. Pauley plans to hold the class on Mondays and Thursdays, and a tentative schedule of the hour given is posted on the door of his office in D-27. All those who contemplate taking advantage of this special course should notify Mr. Pauley immediately. "Magazine Writing," by John Babcock, will be used for home reading.

FIELD DAY FOOTBALL

more, from a numerical point of view, and often as regards to form and style. This year the second-year men have the jump on the freshmen, and are getting started with a great deal of enthusiasm. Many men from last year’s 3A team have not yet reported, and it is hoped that they will find an opportunity to report as soon as possible. There was such a fine team last year that it should be easy to find a strong line again.

Play practice is being held by each team as present, with very little intermixing, as the men have not been out long enough to hold. There seem to be many good men among the freshmen who have reported to date, several of them with good school records behind them.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS OF PARTicular INTEREST

All freshmen who wish to occupy the honorable position attained last year by the Class of 1934, and better attend the freshmen mass meeting at 3 o’clock in Room 10-230. The Sophomores have shown more spirit than usual this year and it will take a well-organized freshmen class to defeat them. At 4 o’clock the Field Day program will be exulted and closer leaders selected. The speakers will be Robert G. MacKay, president of the Class of 1933, in charge of the meeting; Richard L. Fossett, 3B, manager of Field Day; Orson Hedlund, track coach; Pierre S. Dupont HPS, head of men’s Varsity, Engineering, football; and Allan L. Dunning ‘31, crew. Each leader will outline the work to be done and the number of men needed.

Showing more than usual spirit, the Sophomores organized yesterday, and are out to repeat their overwhelming victory of last year. If they are to be defeated this year, it will be a well-organized freshmen class to do it.
