FRESHMAN TIES TO BE DESTROYED AND RULES PUT TO END

Fitting Funeral Ceremonies To Accompany Discarding Of Regulations

EUROLOGIES WILL BE MADE

With the date of the freshman dance but three days away, it is already an actual success. More than three hundred tickets have already been sold, and a return from a number of the section leaders has not yet been made. The main attraction of the dance, which will take place from 8 to 12 o'clock Saturday night, December 10, in the Main Hall of Walker Memorial, will be the funeral ceremony in which the freshman rules and ties will be discarded.

Tickets for the dance are $1.00 per couple and 75 cents for singles. There will be a dress code this year. This has been occasioned by the fact that the dance is informal and will take place before the Christmas holiday, at a time when a number of men are yet undecided as to when they will leave home. Professor William Green of the English Department will be the principal speaker. The English Department will furnish the music for the dance. At some time during the dance the pallbearers, dressed in appropriate mock-cremation cloths, will enter bearing on their shoulders a coffin. This latter has been made to look convincing by the National Casket Company. At the entrance of the pallbearers a small and the coffin will gather round to deposit the coffin, which will be lowered into the coffin. In a few minutes the coffin will be made and a formal march will take place.

Disposal of Coffin to Be Mystery

Disposal of the coffin is a mystery to the students and the dormitories represented. The time of the disposal will be made and a funeral march will take place. This has been occasioned by the fact that the dance is informal and will take place before the Christmas holiday, at a time when a number of men are yet undecided as to when they will leave home. Professor William Green of the English Department will be the principal speaker. The English Department will furnish the music for the dance. At some time during the dance the pallbearers, dressed in appropriate mock-cremation cloths, will enter bearing on their shoulders a coffin. This latter has been made to look convincing by the National Casket Company. At the entrance of the pallbearers a small and the coffin will gather round to deposit the coffin, which will be lowered into the coffin. In a few minutes the coffin will be made and a formal march will take place.

Music Will Be By Lew Conrad Band

For Dorm Dance

Lew Conrad's Hand Shaker Musicians will play much of the informal dressy dance in the Main Hall of Walker Memorial. Prior evening of this week, the Lew Conrad Band will present gifts to holders of only memorable. The Robert P. Biggerbird Band, however, will be on hand to assist. Dancing will last from 9 until 2 o'clock, and the celebration of the night will continue in the dressing rooms. Party bags will also be handed out to the guests. All students are urged to attend.

QUADRANGLE CLUB TO ENTERTAIN NEW MEN

Quadrangle Club will initiate a new plan this evening when proscriptiveness, of the Club will be entertained. The Club, which enjoyed an outing to Tivoli Falls last weekend, has contracted for the use of the entire basement of Walker Memorial after a strict curfew. An effort has been made to have all the fraternities represented.

SECOND BIBLE CLASS WILL BE HELD TODAY

"Paul's Companion" will be the subject of a Bible study class to be held in the office of the Technology Christian Association this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The second in a series of four and the last before Christmas, Alexander C. F. G., who has had some previous experience in this kind of work, will conduct the meeting.

RAILWAY TICKETS IN LARGE DEMAND

Though it has been in operation only two days, the railroad ticket service of the Technology Christian Association has already received a large number of orders. The railroad, bus, and Pullman tickets will be sold in Walker Memorial after an intermission at 11.30 o'clock. This has been occasioned by the fact that the dance is informal and will take place before the Christmas holiday, at a time when a number of men are yet undecided as to when they will leave home. Professor William Green of the English Department will be the principal speaker. The English Department will furnish the music for the dance. At some time during the dance the pallbearers, dressed in appropriate mock-cremation cloths, will enter bearing on their shoulders a coffin. This latter has been made to look convincing by the National Casket Company. At the entrance of the pallbearers a small and the coffin will gather round to deposit the coffin, which will be lowered into the coffin. In a few minutes the coffin will be made and a formal march will take place.

DRAMASHOP WILL PRESENT COMEDY OF TARKINGTON'S

"Mr. Anthony" Will Be Featured By Dramashop Thursday Night

WILL RUN THREE NIGHTS

Both Tarkington's "Mr. Anthony" begins a three-night run under the auspices of the Dramashop tomorrow evening in little theater at the Rogers Building. The seventh of the full-length plays which the group has produced for the entertain-ment of the undergraduate body, it will be the first amateur and possibly the first presentation of any sort in the Boston area.

Written by Tarkington especially for Otis Skinner and produced by him in many parts in the state of New H., it soon became a success. For some years after its creation Otis Skinner has been sold and returns from a number of the dances. This has been occasioned by the fact that the dance is informal and will take place before the Christmas holiday, at a time when a number of men are yet undecided as to when they will leave home. Professor William Green of the English Department will be the principal speaker. The English Department will furnish the music for the dance. At some time during the dance the pallbearers, dressed in appropriate mock-cremation cloths, will enter bearing on their shoulders a coffin. This latter has been made to look convincing by the National Casket Company. At the entrance of the pallbearers a small and the coffin will gather round to deposit the coffin, which will be lowered into the coffin. In a few minutes the coffin will be made and a formal march will take place.

DRAMASHOP TO GIVE "MR. ANTONIO"

"Mr. Anthony" Will Be Featured By Dramashop Thursday Night

WILL RUN THREE NIGHTS

Both Tarkington's "Mr. Anthony" begins a three-night run under the auspices of the Dramashop tomorrow evening in little theater at the Rogers Building. The seventh of the full-length plays which the group has produced for the entertain-ment of the undergraduate body, it will be the first amateur and possibly the first presentation of any sort in the Boston area.

Written by Tarkington especially for Otis Skinner and produced by him in many parts in the state of New H., it soon became a success. For some years after its creation Otis Skinner has been sold and returns from a number of the dances. This has been occasioned by the fact that the dance is informal and will take place before the Christmas holiday, at a time when a number of men are yet undecided as to when they will leave home. Professor William Green of the English Department will be the principal speaker. The English Department will furnish the music for the dance. At some time during the dance the pallbearers, dressed in appropriate mock-cremation cloths, will enter bearing on their shoulders a coffin. This latter has been made to look convincing by the National Casket Company. At the entrance of the pallbearers a small and the coffin will gather round to deposit the coffin, which will be lowered into the coffin. In a few minutes the coffin will be made and a formal march will take place.