Four Crews Trail in Navy Regatta

Bill Haines Grooms Varsity For Poughkeepsie Races On June Twentieth

Never quite able to leap up to the top rung of the ladder yet, the Engineer varsity dropped itself firmly to the second place in the Navy and five leading Penn and Harvard. After fighting in the low course over most of the course, with Navy shippen the last boat for two lengths. From point on a haphazard spot to move out, the boats by a length a little. In the time of running was 4:54, 4:55, Navy’s 4:56, and Technology 4:57.

Bill Haines does not expect to make any change in the varsity crew to the Poughkeepsie races, but is not in a position to say what position the Engineering varsity will be in. However, he feels that the Engineers will be better than the Harvard Engineering crew.

The time for the other races and the order of the battles were:

Sponsored by the Associated Student Body, the annual Technology Regatta will be held at Lake Washington at 10 a.m. on Sunday, June 18. The regatta will be divided into two parts: the varsity and the novice.

TWO GROUPS USE CABIN OVER WEEKEND

Ten groups of Technology were used for the first time in the use of the cabin in the past week. However, the cabin has not been used for its intended purpose, since it has not been available to members of the Cabin.

Arrangements have been made with the T.C.A. for the use of the cabin for the past week. Members of the T.C.A. will be allowed to use the cabin facilities for their week of stay.

The Cabin is available to all members of the Cabin, with the exception of the Executive Committee, who don’t touch ground for 21 t.
