TECHNICAL ACHIEVEMENT WILL BE PRESENTED TO RICHARD BELL, '34

Cup is Presented Every Year To Athlete Who Has Made Best Record

Richard S. Morse, '34, will present the Technique Cup to Richard Bell, '34, tonight, at the All-Technology Student. Each fall the cup is presented to the outstanding athlete on the preceding year. Technique '33 banned the cup to the M. T. A. with that instruction. The award is made on a point system. Each point a competitor for the cup wins in the Intercollegiate events points toward the trophy. Each point in the New England events. Prize on the scale of points. Points in meet events, and in the annual Invitational meet count two and one respectively.

Bell Gets 33 Points
Last year Bell rolled up a total of 36 points. This year, perhaps, no other man received during the same period, or the award goes to him. Instead of actually giving the cup to him, the cup is to be presented on the completion of the cup trophy for his performance of that year, only a

WILD EYES AND FIELD DAY

If one goes outside the circle of college men and makes inquiry regarding college journalists, he will find the general impression to be that they are a group of wild-eyed young men whose chief delight is in criticizing and denouncing established traditions and institutions. As a general thing we are not wild-eyed, nor do we take special delight in making criticisms, and especially we make no intemperately malicious attempts to destroy tradition. There comes a time when a wise man sedates those who are excitable, even men, when they have served their period of usefulness.

Once again it becomes our duty, and we are sure it is not one of special delight in making criticisms, and certainly we make no intemperately malicious attempts to destroy tradition. There comes a time when a wise man sedates those who are excitable, even men, when they have served their period of usefulness. When this time comes, they should be removed and replaced, or, as necessity requires.
