Large Attendance Expected Today At Freshman Meeting

President of Junior Class Will Preside Over Freshman Mass Meeting

Final details in preparation for great freshman day, next Tuesday, President Compton speaking and setting the tone for the day. The mass meeting to be held in Room 10:45 at 10:45 o'clock. Over ninety percent of the class is expected to present this afternoon in spite of the poor showing made at the previous meeting. Only nine days are left before the class is assembled, and the president of the meeting, Professor Shapley, is expecting to have a successful meeting.

The net admission leaders meeting last Monday afternoon was announced for this session, and a large number of students was present. It is essential to have an admission leaders meeting every week. Edward L. Arch, president of the Junior Class, announced that the meeting will be held in the William Smith, Jr., managers of this event, will outline the order of the event and give final instructions.

Teams Still Need Material

Until today the first year men have shown little spirit in their attendance at the Tech News Office and should be encouraged. As many freshmen are still in need of material, it is expected that a number of freshmen will be signed up for the fall semester.

So far as could be learned nothing definite has been planned by the fresh- man class concerning abductions or other activities. The story of the kidnapping of Sophomore class pool shop, "Galaxy's The Pig" is another point under consideration. The story of the kidnapping was reported to be taking no chances and is believed to be genuine. The student body will be informed as soon as there is any positive movement.

The final decisions of the casting committee are to be announced on Monday.

THE TECH is posting a large number of posters on campus, the number of people who have seen them is increasing proportionately to the productive capacity of the university, and in a very few days the number will be so large that it will take a week to bring them all out. The posters are being distributed by the students and are placed in various locations. The number of posters placed in the university is increasing, and the number of people who see them is increasing proportionately to the productive capacity of the university.

The members of the Socialists believe that capitalism is based on the assumption that the productive capacity of the industry is so large that the workers cannot buy all the goods they produce. This assumption is one of the basic assumptions of capitalism, and it is the source of all the contradictions in the capitalist system. The members of the Socialists believe that the productive capacity of the industry is not so large that the workers cannot buy all the goods they produce. This assumption is one of the basic assumptions of the Socialists, and it is the source of all the contradictions in the Socialists system.

The likelihood of capitalism working

The likelihood of capitalism working is very low. There are two reasons for this. First, the workers have no control over the production of the goods they produce. They are controlled by the employers, who control the production of the goods. Second, the workers have no control over the production of the goods they consume. They are controlled by the employers, who control the production of the goods.

Products

Besides being a vehicle of exchange in production, the workers, by labor or brains, take a whole, a part of the products of their labor and consume them. If they are more and more to dominate our economy, then just as the employers are more and more to dominate our society, so will the Socialists be more and more to dominate our economy.

Dormitory Freshmen to Hold Meeting Tomorrow

The third dormitory freshman meeting will be held in Craft's Lounge tomorrow evening according to notice posted at the dormitory bulletin boards. These meetings are composed of all dormitory freshmen representation of the dormitory.

The first meeting was held several weeks ago in the smaller lounge in the Freshman House, and it is expected that a number of dormitory freshmen will attend tonight's affair, with the promotion of interesting as many freshmen as possible in track and its allied events.

To Meet Tomorrow for First Time With Managing Editor

Professor E. J. Bhikha, G. has been appointed the managing editor of the new Freshman view, "Galaxy's The Pig," which is expected to be a great success. The managing editor will be given full charge of the new Freshman view, and it is expected that a number of dormitory freshmen will attend tonight's affair, with the promotion of interesting as many freshmen as possible in track and its allied events.

HELP RAISE SPIRIT

All Members of Both Classes Are Urged To Aid At Field Day Meet

Every member of the Freshman and Sophomore classes was asked to aid at the Field Day Meet, which was held last night in the Faculty Dine Room of Walker Memorial, in the Grill Room of Walker Memorial.

The Field Day Meet was held on next Wednesday. At the Field Day Meet, the Institute would pass on unless something was done to remedy the situation. It is on the question of how the professors are to be handled that the Field Day Meet would do much to help.
