Further on, the letter implies that the Quadrangle Club Takes Action. However, the official statement of the rules by the freshman rules committee, as printed in the Freshman handbook and as approved by the Institute Committee, would sanctify the administration of the rules to the Freshman Rules Committee. As far as is known for the time being, no changes other than those outlined by Mr. Hubbell in his last evening lecture have been made in the Institute rules. The rule has been in existence at Tech- nology, only two organizations outside of the Rules Committee have taken part in the enforcement of the rules, these being the Quadrangle Club and the Coeducational Zoology. Whether or not Hubbell's attention will eventually lead to a demonstration of the enforcement of the rules could not definitely be determined last evening.

A somewhat vague intention that the American Geological Institute in the recent Field Day events might have some misleading effect in connection with the enforcement of the rules by the first year men was also made by Hubbell. "There is at least was before Field Day to humil- iate the freshman class in front of the General Committee." It is possible that they will follow this course in the present democratic movement.

The Quadrangle Club Takes Action. Action which the club will take or in what way it will take is not yet known. It is not yet known that this organization has any secret plan. As approved by the Institute Committee, it is possible that they will follow this course in the present democratic movement.
