Language in the matter of the conflict of the Musical Clubs and Dramashop, we feel that it would be unwise to speculate as to the ultimate outcome of the struggle. The struggle has been ongoing for several years and it is likely that no definite answer will be forthcoming.

Thelatest statements of the representatives of the two clubs have given no indication of any immediate resolution of the conflict. It is possible that the clubs may reach an agreement in the near future, or it may be that the conflict will continue for some time longer.

In the meantime, we recommend that the students remain calm and not take sides. The main concern should be to ensure that the students' right to free expression is protected and that the clubs are not forced to change their policies in order to avoid conflict.

The TECH does not believe that the clubs should be forced to change their policies in order to avoid conflict. The clubs should be allowed to continue their operations as they see fit, and the students should be allowed to support the clubs of their choice.
