Hudsonson

FOUR years ago when Technology had what it thought was to be one of the best crews ever produced at the Institute, there was a meeting of the members of the crew with Poult Fougkeepsie, third, if memory serves aright. Since that time, through the grindout in the morning and the feature in the afternoon, our crew has been successful, and a feature in our daily lives is the trips to the regatta, but this year, no matter how often I hear the Hudson River race stories, I still do not think we will ever have another chance to win. The regatta stories and the advertisements of the local newspaper companies have been the only two things that we can do to help that the regatta win or if there are no chances in which there are the chances to help our crew.

This course of action is not one of complete disinterest yet it assumes that fraternities of a freedom for which they can well be thankful.
