Harry Stickmen Defeat Engineers

The story goes that Oscar (pronounced "or-se"") Stickmen, an unusually active game or two of squash. Despite his apparent tireless mood, he had received a hunting box as a student started to kid him about the subject. Oscar would not stand for this.

"I'll take you on for half a mile, and then we'll see who's a sport."

Oscar was pouring cats and dogs on the track, while Stickmen didn't care. Oscar had won by a half mile, and Stickmen went on the track for two laps through the rain and all. A running event was then run on the track which no one would admit that the race was finished until after the next race was pretty well cooked. Incidentally, Oscar won his race by about twenty yards.

Summer Institute For

Men and Women to Be Given at Wellesley

"Our Economic Future" will be the Subject Of the Study During May

An interesting expression of the modern trend toward education for the adult is the summer institute that is going to be held at Wellesley this July. The Summer Institute for Men and Women to Be Given at Wellesley During May - "Our Economic Future," held by the American Economic Association, will be independent of the Institute of Advanced Studies.

Although every facility of the campus, with its facilities for recreation will be available to the Institute, the Institute will be independent of the Institute of Advanced Studies. It is for this reason that the potential educators of other educational groups may be interested in this institute. If this plan is carried out, substantial discussions related to any possible future would be of benefit to a better social order.
