Technology Crews Win And Lose To Marist In New England Intercollegiates

For the eleventh time in fourteen years, Technology will host play on Friday and Saturday of this week to the track teams of the New England colleges.

The Technology men have had their best series of meets this year, and are likely to have a good showing in the state meet at Keene. The 1-2 punch of Bob Smith and Richard Bostwick has been a decided asset to the team, and the Technology men have been able to make good time after good time on the track.

Hedrick Fells Boston College

To Win New England Intercollegiates

TheTechnology men have been able to make good time after good time on the track. The 1-2 punch of Bob Smith and Richard Bostwick has been a decided asset to the team, and the Technology men have been able to make good time after good time on the track.

Germany's Position In Present Disarmament Situation Explained

The German delegation has been accused of violating the Treaty of Versailles, which was signed in 1919. The Treaty of Versailles was meant to end World War I and establish a new system of international relations.

The German delegation has been accused of violating the Treaty of Versailles, which was signed in 1919. The Treaty of Versailles was meant to end World War I and establish a new system of international relations.

Honor Students Will Be Eligible To Tutor Lower Classes Next Year; Paid Tutoring By Staff Abolished

The honor students at the University of Massachusetts will be eligible to tutor lower classes next year. The plan will be conducted by the Commuters' Association in order to save costs.

The honor students at the University of Massachusetts will be eligible to tutor lower classes next year. The plan will be conducted by the Commuters' Association in order to save costs.

Approved Group Get Opportunity To Reduce Costs

All registered students eligible to apply for position

No Rations Are Fixed

An additional step of the aim to give workers every possible opportunity to meet the cost of their education; the Institute next autumn will establish an approved list of student tutors in first and second year courses. President Karl T. Compton announced today.

In addition to providing financial assistance in general, the plan will be at the same time offer those grad students unusual opportunity for gaining valuable experience in methods of teaching. No set price will be prescriptive by the Institute for the services, each student being left to fix his own compensation.

Established by Faculty Vote

Under this system, which is established by vote of the students, faculty members, and faculty councils of the institute, the plan is not only open to all students, but will be eligible to apply to H. E. Loblatt, Dean of Students, for a position on the approved list of tutors. Preference will be given to upper classmen and graduate students. The technical courses of applicants will be passed upon by the heads of departments responsible for the subjects in which the students are to tutor. This plan abolishes paid tutoring in first and second year courses. It is to be administered by members of the instructing staff.

No Steerage Fare To Be Paid

The plan is expected to make available in New England a large number of students who desire coaching the services of the students. The plan is to have tutors in a wide variety of subjects. The students may be picked from the new list of tutors will be ready in two weeks.

FACULTY CLUB WILL HEAR TWO SPEAKERS

Speaking on "Adjustment to an Age of Plenty," Mr. David T. Cole will address the Faculty Club, at luncheon today at 12 in North Hall. Mr. Cole is an historian; an economist of distinction. Mr. Cole is the author of several articles on the economic situation.

The club will have Dr. James B. Conant and Mr. John P. Egan as guests on Thursday and the two will address the Faculty Club on the theme of "The Future of America." The theme of the meeting is the future of America, and the future of the United States, and the future of mankind in the United States, and the future of mankind in general.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 in the lecture room of the Institute of Technology.

A Record of Continuous News Service Over Fifty Years

Price Five Cents

Part II

[Continued on page 39]