T.C.A. Fund Drive
Encouraging But Not Yet Complete

Undergraduates Want Open House institution Committee Hears Report on Student and Faculty Reaction

That both students and faculty expressed general approval of an annual open house this year was revealed by Henry B. Backstrom, '34, President of the Sophomore Class, at the regular meeting of the institute Committee, held last night in the office of Hamilton Center of Walker Mem-

Backstrom, who has made no secret of his desire for student and faculty reaction upon this point, reported that the House of delegates has declared itself well disposed toward Open House, while students have also expressed their favor of it and their willingness to support it.

Backstrom said that he had submitted the idea to the Student and Faculty reaction upon this point, reported that the House of delegates has declared itself well disposed toward Open House, while students have also expressed their favor of it and their willingness to support it.

The amount of the separate contributions this year has had a large variation. The smallest donation was $1.65 and the largest $25. Last year the high in the total donations was $37. Such varying amounts only make it clear that the donors have times for which they are unable to contribute any amounts.

The amount of the separate contributions this year has had a large variation. The smallest donation was $1.65 and the largest $25. Last year the high in the total donations was $37. Such varying amounts only make it clear that the donors have times for which they are unable to contribute any amounts.

The amount of the separate contributions this year has had a large variation. The smallest donation was $1.65 and the largest $25. Last year the high in the total donations was $37. Such varying amounts only make it clear that the donors have times for which they are unable to contribute any amounts.

The amount of the separate contributions this year has had a large variation. The smallest donation was $1.65 and the largest $25. Last year the high in the total donations was $37. Such varying amounts only make it clear that the donors have times for which they are unable to contribute any amounts.