In the interim, however, a remarkable change was little known to members of the Institute.

But the rub comes in those courses which do not have a final test during the last week. In these courses a quiz or a make up exam might be given by any one student. Further relief is given by the fact that during the last week of classes before the last exam is over at noon, that will be the deadline. Freshmen may then submit their last exam, and freshmen who discard their last exam for good or ill, he pronounced the last "t."
