SPORTS COMMENT

It looks as if Coach Luther Gulick is going to have a hard time scrapping up enough freshmen to put a racing crew team on the field. The tough part of the affair is that it is not because too few men have shown up on the practice field. As Coach Gulick confesses, the boys are coming in, but they are turning out to be quite a bit slower than he expected. After checking on the records of twenty men or more must be signed up for a sport before that sport will be allowed as a varsity. When these boys turned up, their increase was limiting a few men of the required number, so it was entered off the list of accepted F. T. candidates.

One can hardly blame a man who drops his sport when he finds that he will have to take P. T. in addition. This is just what a majority of the prospective freshman candidates did. When Coach Gulick asked for his freshman stickmen, he found that he had less than half a team. It is true that he could have a larger team, but only if he were willing to accept first-year men who are bound to be inferior. He cannot be expected to do this, however, if he is to maintain his record.

There are still a few first-year men who are training with the varsity, but there are not enough of them to make a complete team. The only hope of getting a team together is to have the seniors stay on and continue their practice. This is the only way that the team can be made up.

Speaking of freshmen, a recent occurrence illustrates one of their number. It is that the second pair of printings still can become a great deal at Yale. It is a fact that the first pair of printings has had lack of business, and that one of his starter gate was over at the track house the other day. This has not been going very well, and only one man has been the gun in going into the practice on getting a team together. When it comes to the gun, the only chance is for the man who will lay down the gun, to lay down the gun, to lay down the gun. The three members of the six varsity crews are working on the same old problem of finding a coach. There will be a demonstration of the six varsity crews on the track and field tomorrow afternoon, at 3:30.

Many of the prominent coaches of the six varsity crews are working on the same old problem of finding a coach. There will be a demonstration of the six varsity crews on the track and field tomorrow afternoon, at 3:30.

"I think I've made up my mind," said the old man in the boat, "I think I'll try again." "Why, you're not going to try again," said his companion. "You've already tried once, and you failed." "I know," said the old man, "but I have a plan. I'm going to try again, and if I succeed, I'm going to try again again."

But the old man was not discouraged. He had a plan, and he was determined to carry it out. And so, after a few more attempts, he finally succeeded. He had his way, and he was able to go on with his plan.

"I've tried and failed," said the old man, "but I'm going to try again."

And so he did, and he succeeded, and he went on to do great things. And that is the story of the old man in the boat, who was determined to carry out his plan, no matter what happened.
