Richard G. Fowler, '37. man, '37; William B. Burnandt, '37; and Bmal, '37; John B. Toy, '37; Em- Gory consists of: Robert H. Goldsmith, '37; P. Anslow, Jr., '36, and Frank L. mition. Joseph L. Seligman, '34, re- justified. mittee action at the time has proved permanent and in his opinion the com- it was feared that it might not be which was denied recognition because ization. The paper, although its standard omen which needs the space more, the -18. The largest honor roll in the his- The largest honor roll in the his- ary of the Institute was announced today with the names of 125 students who have been admitted to the Gridiron for the first term of 1933-34. Over 50 per cent. of the entire un- dergraduate body are included on the list as having maintained first, sec- ond or third honor rank in their pro- fessional and cultural studies.

A continuous rise in scholastic sity of space in Walker Memorial. The Budget Committee would be de- The paper, although its standard 18. The largest honor roll in the his- ary of the Institute was announced today with the names of 125 students who have been admitted to the Gridiron for the first term of 1933-34. The largest honor roll in the his- ary of the Institute was announced today with the names of 125 students who have been admitted to the Gridiron for the first term of 1933-34. Over 50 per cent. of the entire un- dergraduate body are included on the list as having maintained first, sec- ond or third honor rank in their pro- fessional and cultural studies.

A continuous rise in scholastic