185 FRESHMEN TO LEAVE FOR ANNUAL CAMP TODAY

Others who will speak to the new men tomorrow morning will include Walter H. Stashemeyer, '35, president of the Senior Class, and Professor Henry G. Pearson of the English Department.

THE LOUNGER

The one to the right he spoke of was of the Depression (Ar more which your elders recall) leading the Republican Party into the wilderness. This was quite a little joke at the time since it was a Presidential year. The moral that you first see as you enter the stage called a picture of the Faculty surrounded by stereographs. It may not make you laugh, but remember that that was in the days when the May in the Street was chanting, "A good belly laugh turns away the wrath of an empty stomach."

further sports will be held on Sunday morning under the supervision of Coach Oscar Hedlund who will take charge of a track meet. Events will include a dash, a longer run, a high jump, and a broad jump.

HAY YOU TRIED

this way of regaining energy?

The strain of pursuing a law course in a tremendous test upon my energy," says E. R. O'Neil, '35, "but I try to avoid overeating, and part of my program is smoking Camel. There's a lot of enjoyment in Camel, and they give me a delightful "lift." I smoke them constantly and they never upset my nerves.

Every situation in life has its trials—if you ask me a difficult "lift." I smoke them constantly and they never upset my nerves."

Major General Paul R. Bratton of the United States Army, who during the summer reviewed members of the R. O. T. C. Coast Artillery Camp at Fort Myer, Va., has written President Compton about the excellent showing of Technology members of the corps.

"I desire to congratulate you," he said, "upon having such a splendid group of young men representing your institution at this camp. Their excellent appearance, interest in their work and unflinching attitude give evidence to me of the fine personal and school leadership which characterizes your institution."

In athletics and athletics. A program of various sports events will follow the opening of various sports events. A baseball game will be played; men interested in the same will be given instructions on the handling of oars; and the camp rifle range will be open in charge of one of the army officers. A faculty indoor baseball game will feature the afternoon program.

Further sports will be held under the supervision of coaches of the respective sports. A football game will be played; men interested in the same will be given instructions on the handling of oars; and the camp rifle range will be open in charge of one of the army officers. A faculty indoor baseball game will feature the afternoon program.

Before bidding adieu until next week, let us give you this one to write to the folks. It seems that the architect, or whatever it is they call men who design ships, specified that the interior suite should contain, guess what, TWIN BEDS. Which goes to show.
