Commuters’ Dance to Have Feature in Guest Soliloquy

Marcelle Pouretier Has Broadcast on the Statler Hour. With Andrew Jacobson

MUSIC BY DUKE CHARLES

With a guest soloist in the person of Marcelle Pouretier, and Duke Char-les E. Yard, a distinguished soloist from the Statler Club. This Soliloquy will have its first outing of the season next Thursday evening, the night before the holiday, from 9 to 11 o'clock at Walker Memorial.

Miss Pouretier, whose picture is reproduced elsewhere in this issue, has recently completed a two-week engagement at the Metropolitan Theater on the program of the Current style show. This soliloquy has the distinction of being the first of its kind to take place on the Choral Room, and is as fresh and original a new broadcast from every station. A million listeners have heard Miss Pouretier to stay at their posts, and the Memorial will be transformed by the use of cycloramas and air-sounding and artificial atmosphere. During the evening there will be a guided tour of the station, above which George A. Peterson, ’38, chairman of this committee, refusal to develop any further details. The tour will begin at 3:30 for members and 4:30 for members of the larger public. There will be an opportunity to see the Memorial's radio equipment, and the way that the way of the transmitter is not to be trusted to the class of '39. The show and the Memorial are sponsored by the Memorial Association, New Hampshire, Springfield and Villanova.

Professor Morris to Talk Over the ‘Air’

With the ‘Air’ of Time” to Be Subject of Address Rendered

Frederick K. Morris, Professor of Geology at the Institute, will give an address on October 12 at 8:15 P.M., as the subject ‘Air of Time’ over the WABA, and on the auspices of the Northeastern Section of American Geophysical Union.

Let us be given weekly by the American Geophysical Union over station WABA as an affiliated station for all our station. It is hoped that this new medium of communication will be delivered each Friday evening at 8:15.

Instituted several years ago as an activity of the division of Chemical Education of the Society, and operating under the advisory committee on education of the society, the (Continued on Page 7)

Dramashop Seeks Tryouts for Show

Hatschek, Graduate Student, to Prove This Fall’s Presentation

Tryouts for the Dramashop’s fall presentation, ‘The Tavern,’ were held yesterday afternoon, in Room C-31. It was announced that further trials would take place tomorrow in the same room, at the same time, in order that everyone might have a chance to try out.

Robert A. H. Hatschek, graduate student of the respective and former General Manager of Dramashop, will direct that organization this year under the direction of Professor Dean M. Fuller.

The final of the play may be announced towards the end of this week, at which time the management will announce the date of the audition material.
