Trip Disastrous To Tech Quintet

Hoosiers Bitten by Union and New York State 59-33, 42-15

In its New York invasion last week end, the Tech varsity basketball team failed to fall and fell to New York State. In spite of the fact that the Engineers lost to Union by the scores of 39 to 33, the game was fast and well played by both teams. Union has a "crackerjack" team which has only lost two games during the season. The star scorer of the game was Union's left guard, Eamera, well-known football player. Tech's high scorer was Bill Garth, who was ably assisted by the fine playing of the entire team. Though the Beavers lost, they managed to pile up a higher score on Union than any other team this season.

At Albany, the Engineers played a snug game against New York State; the final score being 44 to 15, which was quite a victory for the Beavers to make as many as such field goals. The Beavers were also without the assistance of Freddy O'Brien, who turned his ankle in the preceding game.

The hoop skippers gained better by winning their first game when they played New York State, the final score being 59 to 33, and by the overwhelming score of 9 to 4. The youngsters found themselves during this game and turned out a fine performance.

Both the varsity and the freshmen will meet Boston University at the Hangar tomorrow night. The varsity Bostonians have only won one game during this season; so Tech stands a fine chance of turning in their second victory.

Crews Practice Every Night On Rowing Machines

Many Veterans Lost; Probable Lineups Uncertain As Season Opens

Coach Bill Haines has been making the workouts of crew candidates extremely hard this month as the rowing season approaches again. At the present time Bill has them training on the river for two miles every night and after that he has them work on the rowing machines. At the present time it is too early to predict a lineup for the Varsity, Junior Varsity or 150 lb. varsity boats, but nevertheless Bill has his weather eyes peeled and no little incident escapes his eye.

The Tech varsity boat yesterday was Montgomer No. 8, Haggerty No. 7, Chapin No. 6, Westfall No. 5, Lucke No. 4, and Em inger No. 3, with below men in easy installments. Complete details of Varsity and Junior Varsity Boats working indoors at the boat house, Coach Bill Haines can be seen in rear center.

Mittmen Lose To Coast Guard Their First Home Meet

Casale and Brooks Lose Tech Victors in Thrilling Series of Bouts

Only 38 Spectators See Thrashes

Technology boxers lost to their guests from the Coast Guard Academy last Saturday evening by a score of 7 to 0. Although the team was lacking in varsity men and several freshmen had to fill vacancies, it gave the best demonstration of stamina, and boxing ability that Coach Rawson has seen this season. Despite the fact that scarcely anybody turned out to see them fight, Red Brooks and Jim Casale won the matches, while Ed Martin, a freshman, Elmer Wirtz and Wally Mathieson fought few battles only to lose by close decisions.

The loss of Elmer Wirtz and Wally Mathieson was the most exciting of the evening. Wirtz, in the 150 lb. class fought the most aggressive fight of his career against Westbrook of Coast Guard. Westbrook in a scowling, a disadvantage to Elmer, as the Tech team has no southpaws. Nevertheless, Elmer outboxed and outpointed him throughout the first round. Westbrook was so blind during the second round and Elmer slugged it in return, thought by this time his fast paws had begun to tire him.

Wally Mathieson, of Tech, in the 175 lb. class, gave a fine exhibition of boxing for a man who never boxed before this year. He started off slowly and gradually picked up speed and strength. His opponent, Trask, on the other hand, was fast and strong and was the first to score in the second round brought joy to Coach Rawson. Tech fans went wild in the third round and boxes intermediate
