Promotions

Professor Robert R. Rogers of the department of English also has been promoted to full professor of English. Professor Rogers was graduated from Harvard in 1909 and was an instructor in English at Williams College the following year. He joined the teaching staff of Technology as an instructor in 1915, was made an assistant professor in 1917 and an associate professor in 1923.

Promotions to the rank of assistant professor include Professors Donald C. Brodhouse, John A. Hurd, and Hans Mueller, all of the department of chemistry; Professor B. Alden Thrasher of the department of economics and social science; Professor Martin J. Hoeger of the department of geology; Professor Frederick W. Norton of the department of mining and metallurgy; Professor Lord C. Willett of the meteorological division of the department of mechanical engineering; and Professors Kaye L. Wildes and Louis F. Woodruff, both of the department of electrical engineering.

Members of the teaching staff promoted to the rank of assistant professor are Dr. Leslie Peters and Charles S. Dresser, aerosol engineering; Robert R. McHale, who is also appointed director of the chemical engineering practice school; Mr. Michael H. Johnson and Marshall W. Jennison, biology.

Professor Hurd C. Willett of the department of mining and metallurgy; and Professor Linus Pauling, chemistry, and Harold A. Freeman, economics.

Commissioners and of the Sewer Commissioners.

Mr. Moreland was born at Lexington, Va. In 1886. He is the son of Sidney T. and Sally Preston Moreland, and his father was for many years professor of physics and dean of Washington and Lee University, later becoming professor of physics and dean of the pre-medical school of the University of Tennessee. Mr. Moreland received his early education at the McDonogh School of McDonogh, Md., where his father was principal for several years, and the Boys' Latin School of Baltimore. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Johns Hopkins University in 1906, came immediately to Technology for his advanced studies. Upon his graduation, he entered the Boston engineering firm of O. G. and W. R. Jackson, which in 1910 became the firm of Jackson & Moreland, from which Professor Jackson retired in 1930. The members, in addition to Mr. Moreland, now are Frank M. Carhart and Ralph D. Booth.

Prota, Jr., mechanical engineering; John L. Parker, biology; Robert W. Armstrong, chemistry, and Harold A. Freeman, economics.

Northfield/Student Conference Scheduled

On Wednesday, April 16, at 1:45 p.m. held a luncheon meeting of all students and faculty of Northfield and students of men's colleges in greater Boston interested in plans for the annual Northfield student conference on June 16–18 will be held at North Hall of Walker Memorial.

To loneliness...I bring companionship

I'm your best friend

I am your Lucky Strike

I am a friend indeed. A better friend than others, because I am made only of mild, fragrant, expensive center leaves. I don't permit a single sharp top leaf nor a single coarse bottom leaf to mar my good taste or my uniform mildness. I do not irritate. To loneliness I bring companionship. I am the best of friends.

Lucky Strike Cigarettes give a better flavor, more smoke, greater throat comfort, than others.
