“Torchbearers” To Be Presented Saturday
Tech and Simmons Cast Will Play At The Civic Repertoire
Stage-struck wives and distressed husbands will vie for honors Saturday night when the “Dramashop” of Tech and dramatic society of Simmons will present George Kelly’s “Torchbearers”, a hilarious comedy about the little theater movement in America. When the curtains of the Civic Repertory Theatre go up at 8:15, the Tech Engineers and the Simmons Hammer will sing through the lines of one of the most famous satires of the American stage, im-perialized behind the footlights by Navy Island and Alsatia Shipwrights, in 1922 in New York, and behind the corners Eight as “Doubting Thomas”, with the beloved line ordination, Will Rogers.

The leading male roles will be played by Fred Cleaves, ’37; president of the Dramashop; Julius, Isaacson, ’37; David Morse, ’37, and Robert Fasten, ’37. The important female characters will be portrayed by Karina Stokrand, Elizabeth Hosperty, and Jamie Fipes of Simmons.

Tickets are seventy-five cents.

Debating

prove that the United States can be self-contended. Judges of the contest will be: Alvin R. Meehan, banker, Dr. Rockwell, the head of the English Department at Emory College, and Dr. McKinley, head of the History Department at Emory. Professor Frederick G. Fassett of the Institute English Department will act as chairman.

The Technology team does not go into the field belligerently, instead, Albert Wall was a member of the team that met Michigan State last year. Cools gained practices in the freshmen Holy Cross debate. sedan, the former president of the freshmen team, spoke against Boston College and Boston University when the freshman team defeated those groups. Last year, it was a number of the members that ran the Tufts University questions and had a tie in it.

HERE’S WHY CAMEL’S MILDNESS APPEALS TO OUT-OF-DOORS PEOPLE

Henry Clay Foster, explorer, tiger hunter, and steady Camel smoker. He has struggled for many a weary mile through brush and jungle... faced many a tense moment when nerves were tested to the limit. Speaking of nerves and smoking, Foster says: “My idea of a mild cigarette is Camel. I’ve been to rough spots, but Camel has never proven my nerves off key, although I’m a steady Camel smoker and have been for years. Camels give me the mildness I want—better taste—the fragrance and scents of choice tobaccos.”

COSTLIER TOBACCO!
Camels are made from finer
MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCO
...Turkish and Domestics... than any other popular brand.

YOU’LL LIKE THEIR MILDNESS TOO
Here is a cigarette whose mildness is beyond question. For Camels are so mild that they can light up your pipe or match and keep smoking until you put them out. It is this kind of cleanliness that should enable cigarettes to compete with other tobaccos, and it is this kind of cleanliness that Camels have long been known for and continue to be known for.
