Harvard Pucksters Defeat Technology

Strong Crimson Attack Results in 12-0 Score; Brown Game Tomorrow

Technology's hockey sextet was handed its third defeat of the season today when it received a 12-0 decisive trouncing from Harvard in the Boston Arena. The game was an easy victory for Harvard. The outclass team played most of the game in its home territory and managed to put up a vigorous defense even though it was not very effective. Harvard managed to put past four goals in the first quarter, five in the second quarter, and three in the third period. Goalie Van Patton-Steiger was harassed and bewildered by the ferocity of the Crimson attack and managed to turn in a fairly good performance in the second and third quarters. For tonight, Captain Phil Norton will open the season with a win. The men making the trip will be left by his with his with his former Harvard's Pete Stumard. The left hand is free of the Crimson's petter.
