HEAVEN WILL PROTECT
THE CRADLE OF LIBERTY

W hile less than inner satisfaction that Bostonians will be spared the ghastly experience of seeing "The Children's Hour," that increasing number of people who are moderately amused by the play are not able to get jobs. This state of affairs cannot be alleviated by a perfect educational system. Men may become employed when they are ready to return to their natural capabilities and according to their desires. Simply because men get the erroneous idea that a college degree will guarantee them jobs is not the fault of the educational faculties or of our social system.

by its courses and professors. However, the facts do not indicate that we must be speculating next year. In time, the country will be in need of more rather than fewer scientists. The demand for scientists is increasing, but the supply is not. It is, therefore, very important that those pursuing a career in science be well prepared. In this regard, the courses and professors at MIT are most commendable.

FOLLIES OF 1935

T he fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Class of 1936 is being handed over every year, was the recent

槎る adults. Why, only recently Clifford Lowe's State and Orpheus - Shirley Temple

PARTY AND FENWAY - Millions in the Air, musical comedy and a premier version of the "Christmas Carol" entitled Scrooge, Metroplitan - Shirley Temple

THAT a college degree is now of little value will be the case when men are being hand out every year, was the recent decision that the Columbia Graduate School of Journalism. This is due to the fact that the students have been given much publicity and have generally been related with amativeness of the public.

and equally highly undesirable alien Sean LOWE'S STATE AND ORPHEUS-and tweeds carrying books under our phones: Lafayette 5000, Kirkland 7360 and Highlands 7954

At every second, this might be designated as a misappropriation of public funds, but with this August body seemingly a law unto itself, such a possibility is indeed remote.

OLIVE HILLS STATE AND ORPHEUS-

THE BEAVER KEY SOCIETY, we are told, among the many questions that flash to the mind, what will the world be like in 1950? If people do not fear; if heaven won't-the censor will.

But there were a few indications that Voo Doo has taken a turn for the better. Of course it is possible to prod a thing into submission to do this, since no query there alre undoubtedly substantial reasons for higher prices: There is a rising cost of living and the demand for men's money earning power. There are even those who feel that the college degree is not general an indication of the graduate education, but rather of the degree and kind of work he did.

Nor is this change in the meaning of a college degree to be deplored. There are men who believe that the college degree is not possible. However, they are not likely to be caught in modern industrial society because the lack of training needed to earn their bread. Since they may be the man who attains worldly success because he may not be able to get a job as a chemist, but to the fact that the college degree does not prove to be as much as basic as it would seem to be. However, there are other means of determining that.

It must be admitted that there are at present thousands of men who are not able to get jobs. This state of affairs cannot be alleviated by a perfect educational system. Men may become employed when they are ready to return to their natural capabilities and according to their desires. Simply because men get the erroneous idea that a college degree will guarantee them jobs is not the fault of the educational faculties or of our social system.

HEAVEN WILL PROTECT
THE CRADLE OF LIBERTY

W hile less than inner satisfaction that Bostonians will be spared the ghastly experience of seeing "The Children's Hour," that increasing number of people who are moderately amused by the play are not able to get jobs. This state of affairs cannot be alleviated by a perfect educational system. Men may become employed when they are ready to return to their natural capabilities and according to their desires. Simply because men get the erroneous idea that a college degree will guarantee them jobs is not the fault of the educational faculties or of our social system.

by its courses and professors. However, the facts do not indicate that we must be speculating next year. In time, the country will be in need of more rather than fewer scientists. The demand for scientists is increasing, but the supply is not. It is, therefore, very important that those pursuing a career in science be well prepared. In this regard, the courses and professors at MIT are most commendable.