Narrator Sought In New Radio Program

Technology Student Arranges Series Of Sunday Night Performances

The sponsors of the Company Hour have announced that they are seeking a student with an appealing personality to act as narrator for the next series of programs to be presented over the Yankee network through WAKB from 3:30 to 4:30, each Sunday evening beginning March 8th. The programs, organized by Justin J. Shapiro, '36, a senior at Technology, are to be dedicated to the great composers of the world. Each program will depict the life and work of a great musician playing his greatest works in a dramatic setting taken from the incidents of his life. The casts will include professional as well as amateur performers and commercial sponsors will be sought to underwrite the production as a paying basis.

Pabst Brewery, the sponsor of the Pabst Symphony Orchestra, who books the series at the Metropolitan Theater, will inaugurate the first broadcast, an all Mozart program, "Chase from the "Evzones" to the "Vivace"" by the Berlin Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Dr. H. C. Crescigni. Students from the New England Conservatory of Music will present several, with soloists from various major symphonies and orchestras.

Awards will be given to the best performances, and the program will be broadcast on a commercial level, with a weekly social being held at the Met. The program will be produced by Justin J. Shapiro, '36, a senior at Technology, and sponsored by Pabst Brewing Company.

Lucky Strike Cigarettes are the only cigarettes which have a "lighthouse blazing through the night". The top leaves of all tobacco plants tend to give off a yellowish color, while Lucky Strike cigarettes have a deep red color. The quality of the tobacco is also known to be superior to other brands, and the cigarettes are wrapped in a distinctive red and yellow band.

Lucky Strike Cigarettes are the only cigarettes which have a "lighthouse blazing through the night". The top leaves of all tobacco plants tend to give off a yellowish color, while Lucky Strike cigarettes have a deep red color. The quality of the tobacco is also known to be superior to other brands, and the cigarettes are wrapped in a distinctive red and yellow band.