Frat-Commutee Soccer League
To Be Organized

Participation Of Dormitories
In League Is As Yet
Tenative

Beaver Key Sponsorship
League

Plans for an All-Technological League for this spring are progressing rapidly with the final setup details being given to the busy student boards as to whether or not to join. Both the Beaver Key administrators and the fraternity members have been working overtime to arrange for the most popular spring sports; which sport will start is about ten days.

The final vote will be had by the Beaver Key administrators and the students before the league is actually formed. The League will probably start with a cup for a cup to be donated by the January Council on Athletics. The two mentioned groups will play in the morning, while the other two winners.

Technology Crews
Developing Slowly

Coach Haines is Disillusioned
-with Making Headway By
-Varisty

The members of the Technology crew have been practicing steadily for the past eight days, but the returning eleven who have been practicing at the same time have still been in the"franchise"Indian paddles halting, the old oars and restrategizing for the same temperatures followed by scrimmages.

These two spring practices are hastily arranged with Harvard.

Owl, Bartlett, Danton Score
The Majority Of The Tech Points

The technology forwards brought to a close a successful season, making a brilliant showing at the 1936 Princeton intercollegiates last Saturday, in New York. Although the team placed third among two colleges and universities after they did better than any squad from the Institute in the past.

Owl lead Costello, individual win-er, 4-2 in the finals, but finally become shaken and lost. Bartlett made a good showing, winning a good number of his matches. Leo Danton had only one loss in his final series that the men who won the individual championship.

In the tourney the Institute placed sixth with New York University leading with 24 points, Yale second with 16 and Navy third with 24. Eight men made the trips with Coach Roth and Manager Cooper.
The fencing banquet is to be held April 28.

Sports Comment

Captain J. D. Baker of the 1936 lacrosse team opens up its campaign next Monday afternoon with the Eastern Athletic League. This game has come to be an annual for the Cardinal and Grey. The Tech team is offering in very strong GUARD and in playing for the Tech alumni to pick up many valuable pointers. No one doubts that the more experienced Cardinal team will be on the long end of the score, however, but the value resulted will not be measured by the final tally totals.

As you have probably already read elsewhere in The Tech today, every progressing for the formation of a softball league, which would probably conflict with the regular baseball competition. From my standpoint we do not think that regular baseball should be interreared with. A regular intercollegiate baseball league is scheduled each spring for those interested in playing baseball, and in addition the Dormitories have regularly scheduled baseball games in the Spring.

We are favorably inclined toward the policy of instituting softball for a college sport, but would like to see it held only in the Spring season, then it would possibly be possible for the team to get the best players and would possibly have better competition.
