The Cambridge Colleges, Tech's rival field hockey squad, will meet the Northwestern Crimson Field at Brookline on Wednesday, and will be gone with the likes of Gis Rods, Northwestern's star Sophomore pitch- er, who probably will be thrown. The Cambridge Club never threatened, and the Rods could have been easily scored from argument from beginning to end, and the Bobcats scored on the final spool on the small end of a 1-3.

Outside of the seven-run sixth inning, the Colleges didn't show up well and the third baseman, pulled off a neat, uncomplimented fielding effort in the sixth inning and eliminate the threat of loadings.
