Late Saturday afternoon, the Technology varsity and the 100-pound crew both lost their races by three lengths. The Technology varsity crew had the worst of the going when Yale took over the number one lane on the Waypoint, concentrating all their efforts to hook the lead from the start with its faster starters. In the end they could not overtake the smoothly running Connecticut shell. The Yale boat won by a margin of 30 seconds. Their enginered rivals by over 100 points.
