I, T. 1938 Associated, with a graph picturing the current value of the bonds and the speculative value of the dividend.

Daily results of the sales are shown on a chart below the graph, where the daily sales, high and low prices, amounts bid and asked, total sales, and the Dow Jones Index are posted for the M. I. T. 1938 Associated bonds, options, and tickets.

Admissions without options will be $1.75 a couple, while the options will entitle the holder to purchase a ticket for $1.80 a couple—one dollar more than the price of the options. Stag admissions will be $1.25 and $1.00 respectively.

Lou Perry, a vocalist known for his renderings of "Dinah" and "To a Magpie," will entertain during the dance.

Options will be on sale in the Main Lobby from 12 to 2 every day, and they may also be purchased from the members of the committee.

Those on the committee are D. Donald Weir, '38; Frederick J. Kolb, '38; Arthur C. Watson of the English Department, '38; Edouard R. Bossange, '38; John R. Ferguson, '38; Edwards R. Fish, '38; Robert G. Fife, '38; Robert Y. Edwards, R. Vincent Kron, '38; Henry H. Guerke, '38; Michael V. Herasimchuk, '38; and James A. Tobey, '38, director of Birdon Company's Health Service.

For "loads" of pleasure, load-up with Cool as the summons: "The dean want you." Before the doors are closed you'll have to report for duty. After the door is closed, you'll beC.

"Queen Mary" The new model of the sewing machine of the same name, the "Queen Mary," arrived at M. I. T. yesterday. This is the first showing in America of this model which was secured by Mr. William Jackson of Technology.
