William Haines, Rowing Mentor, Has Spent Thirteen Years As Tech Coach

"My! What a lovely child, and do you always run this big horse by your tiny bay all?"

"With this query the race between the five-year-old, who was stairs and the four-year-old, who is stairs and him. It would have been actually a race between the two ordinary persons to concentrate on rowing under those conditions, but Bill Haines, Technology Crew Coach, is no ordinary individual. He immediately put the junior elements aside and concentrated on his only love, rowing. So it is that Technology now has a race coach who is well qualified for all phases of the sport.

West To Eate

Bill Haines was one of the long-time rowers. It was undeniably one of his ancestors who stocked William the Conqueror's French Channel fleet in 1066. This lover of the oar received most of his education in that venerable English institution, Eton, where his fates were destined not to allow him to graduate from this exciting branch of learning. In fact the youth possessed a little too much of the Old Nick in him, and the fervid enthusiasm which he displayed in the 500-yard dash he won the 400-yard run. Henry Guerke came through with a strong second in the mile and the other event was what is called the two-mile run. Technology's failure to win any one of the many points in the field event was due mainly to the absence of Tom Frame, the Beavers' best javelin thrower from 158 feet 6 inches to 220 yards.

The beloved senior Beta Pi, Sherwood, has been made to understand by his old and new friends that they will have to start a new Beta Pi. The newest Beta Pi, however, is to be the final Beta Pi of this generation.

Socially, Beta Pi will not be any different than it has been in the past. But the Beta Pi of the future will not be the Beta Pi of the past. The Beta Pi of the future will be a Beta Pi of the future. The Beta Pi of the past will be a Beta Pi of the past.
