Field Day Dance
(Continued from page 1)

keynote, an elaborate scheme of decorations will be carried out. Included in this scheme is a large football and stage, indicative of two of the main events in the Field Day schedule. More than two thousand gaily colored balloons will deck the ceiling of Walker and give a cozy, low-ceilinged effect to the hall.

As master of the revels, Jack Mar-hard leads his Bar Harbor Club orchestra from nine to two o'clock. There will be Open House in the dorm-citories from 1 o'clock in the after-to eleven o'clock in the evening and the Grill Rooms in Walker will be open during the dances.

“Field Day visitors will be wel-tones,” Chairman Lloyd Living, ’38, of the Dance Committee announced yesterday. “Although most of the three hundred tickets available have been sold, all those who desire to get their tickets at the door will be accommodated.”

Freshman Councilors
Eleet Three Officers

Raymond R. Foster, ’40, was elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Freshman Council and Institute Committee representative ex-officio at the meeting of the Freshman Council Wednesday. Marshall Arnold R. Wright and Frederic A. Libby were elected delegates-at-large to the Institute Committee.

Those selections were tentatively approved by the Institute Committee yesterday, subject to report by Walker Memorial Committee.

Professor Koth, president of the Junior Class and chairman of the Freshman council, stressed the importance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-
tance of regular attendance at the meeting, stating that two absences and one proxie would deprive a sec-