Lobdell Also Presents Cabo Medals At Field Day Banquet

High praise was given freshman and sophomore teams yesterday in the annual Field Day Banquet last Friday in Willard Memorial, attended by the entire class and Advisory council. A toast was furnished with a gift from the freshmen and Sophomores who made the stand to tear them down, and the Sophomores broke out of the steward to tear them down, and the fight that ensued between the Sophomores and the freshmen who were rid of the pajamas to a redshirt.

Coach Oscar Holland's predictions were correct, for yesterday at Winter Quarter, the football game, he said that would be the closest battle of the day.

Tech Show Script Now Being Written

Survey To Be Made To Find Extent of Student Interest

"Since the announcement last Tuesday of a twenty-five dollar prize for a script for Tech Show," three script committees have been formed, "and several papers of being written," stated Robert J. Moffet, '37, electrical general manager of the Tech Show. The committee further said that Tech Show also desired music and lyrics.

The general manager added that student opinion was running high in favor of the show and that Tech Show would soon conduct a survey among the students to prove their interest in the show. In addition, many students from Smith and Amherst have indicated the success of last year's presentation because the officers signed an agreement which would pay again in Northampton.

Technicians of Tech Show was withdrawn by the Institute Committee at the end of last term. The Show had been an annual feature at the Institute, and was considered a major activity. Its constitution was revoked by the Institute Committee because of the character and integrity of the show. The Institute Committee is now being formed to appear in the present day. Each member will vote individually to form the committee.

After the banquet was over, Dean Clyde Cabral asked Cabo Medals to five Sophomores who have done the greatest improvement in their physical development during the past year:
